

Ref. No: 2169
Date: 13/11/25
Subject: Pregnancies in women of advanced maternal age

REQUEST & RESPONSE

1. The Trusts current definition of "advanced maternal age" used in maternity care, including any numerical age thresholds applied in policy or clinical documentation.

The only age threshold applied in policies is ≥ 40 years for fetal growth detection and management and ≥ 35 years for thromboprophylaxis

2. Copies or links of any Trust policies, protocols, or guidelines that relate specifically to the management or care of pregnant women of advanced maternal age.

Please see attached

3. Details of any patient information materials, counselling frameworks, or communication guidance provided to staff concerning risk communication with AMA women.

There are no specific materials for specifically for AMA women

4. Confirmation of whether the Trust has a dedicated multidisciplinary approach or specialist clinical pathway for older mothers; if so, please describe its key features and remit.

The Trust does not have any dedicated multidisciplinary approach or specialist clinical pathway for older mothers.